

Online Training Course
on
Innovation Paths for News Production Methods in the Multimedia Era
30th November 2023, Time: 15:00-17:00 PM (GMT+8)

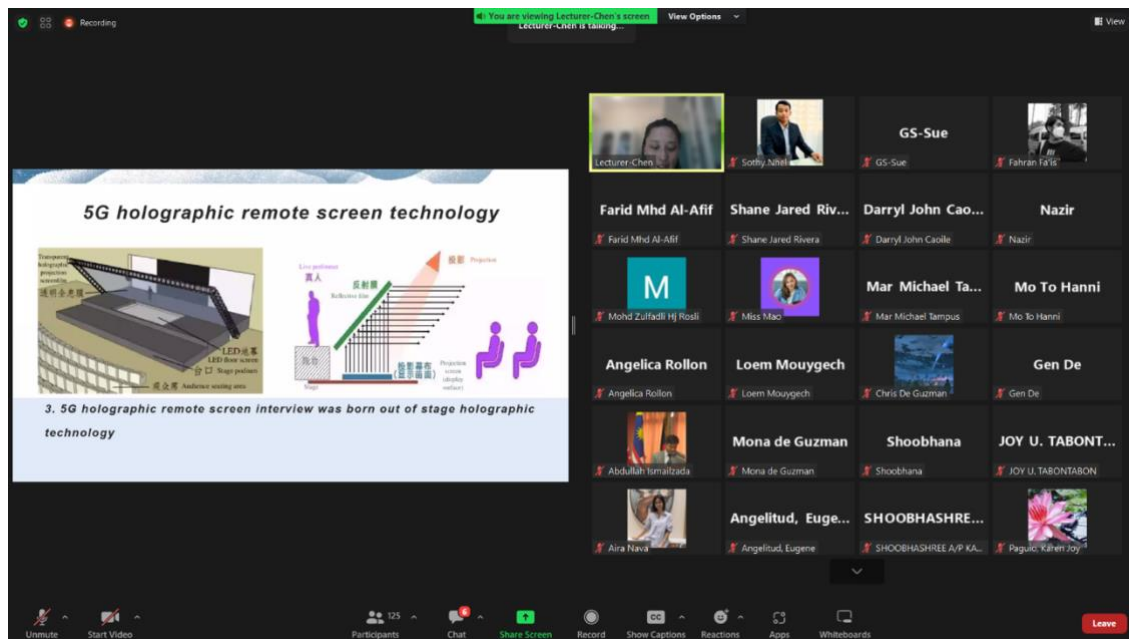

Southeast Asian Ministers of Education Organization Regional Centre for Technical Education Development (SEAMEO TED), Sichuan Vocational College of Cultural Industries, and Go Study Global Education co-organized an online training course on “Innovation Paths for News Production Methods in the Multimedia Era” participated by over 130 participants from eleven countries consisting of Cambodia, Indonesia, the Philippines, Pakistan, Uganda, Malaysia, Brunei Darussalam, India, Afghanistan, Taiwan, and Serbia. The course was held from 15:00 pm to 17:00 pm (GMT+8) on November 30, 2023 in the purpose of sharing knowledge and expertise on the landscape of news production in the multimedia era by a Journalism and Communication Specialist Mrs. CHEN Yi.

(Lecturer's Explanation on AI)

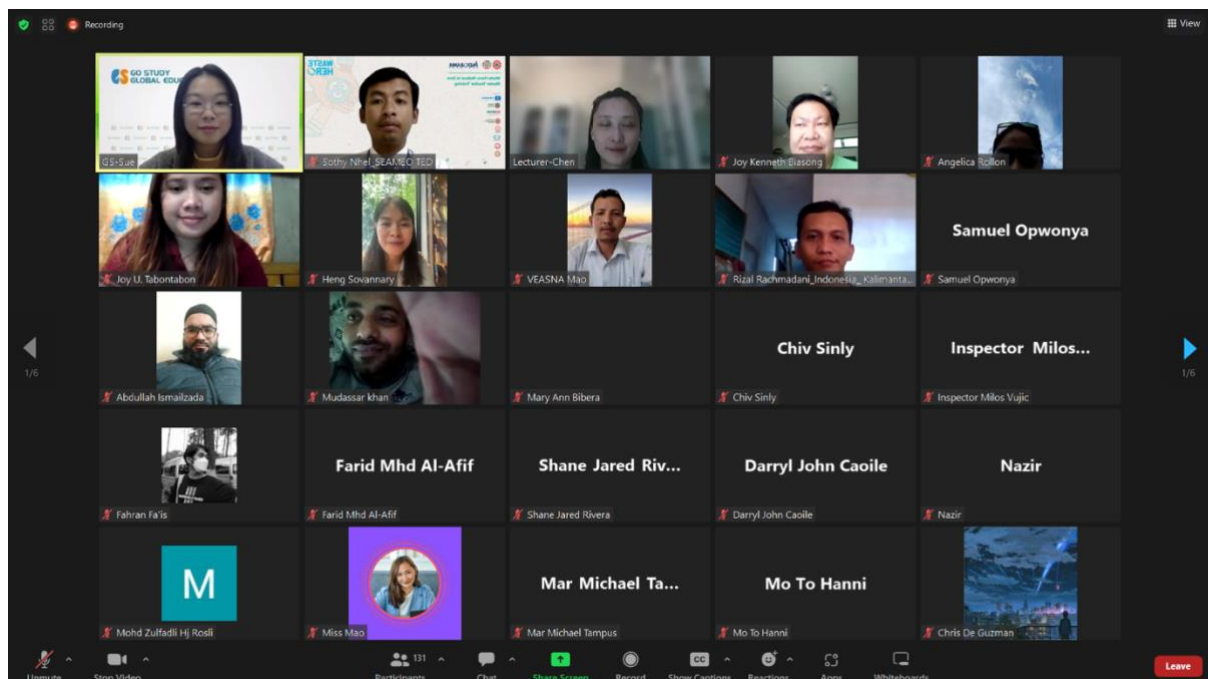

During the live lecture, a lecturer Mrs. CHEN Yi gave her self-introduction and welcoming all participants from eleven countries stressing the significances of the training topic and the current status of news production, the necessity for innovation, the influence of new technologies, their application in converged media and valuable insights derived from case studies. Participants learnt more about the superiority of the central kitchen news production platform, concepts of artificial intelligence and the concepts of 5G holographic remote screen technology. The interaction and communication as parts of Q & A session were encouraged in terms of answering participants' questions, concerns or comments.

(Lecturer's Explanation on 6G Holographic Remote Screen Technology)

In conclusion, this course provided participants with the valuable insights into the dynamic world of multimedia storytelling. Participants actively involved and enjoyed the course by raising the questions in chat box and answering questions asked by the Specialist. Upon successfully completing the course, the participants will get a completion certificate for their official uses.

(Photo Session at the End of the Course)